LADYSMITH

Is Destined to Be the Scene of of a Battle Between Britons and Boers.

OUTPOST SKIRMISHES ON

The Boers Gathering From all Sides to Attack Their English Foes.

VARIOUS MINOR NOTES OF WAR

LADYSMITH, Oct. 28.—A strong force of artillery and mounted infantry and cavalry was sent out by General White today to meet the advancing Boers on Helpmakaar road. They soon came in touch with the enemy and an artillery duel began. Fighting is going on three miles from Moddersburg.
Details are lacking. Before White's force moved out numerous skirmishes had taken place between the Boers and British north and west of town.

BULWAYO, Oct. 28.—Lieutenant Llewellyn, with a force of Rhodesia police and railway men has been checking the Boers north of Ootsa Station, on Cape railway. He was assisted by an armed train. He engaged Boers near Lebata, killing a number of the enemy.

NOTES VIA LONDON.
It is reported Kimberley is suffering from a severe plague of locusts. The British and Boers are but four miles apart at this point.

A Reuter dispatch from Ladysmith says Boers shot down civilians at Dundee without provocation.

Rumors of discord at Bloemfontein, the capital of the Orange Free State, have reached here. It is said an effort will be made to remove President Steyn and to install Mr. Frazier as his successor.

During General Buller's retreat from Glencoe the Boers shelled the vacated position, where the British had left their waterworks rigged up in rude resemblance of men. The Boers vainly charged the waterworks only to find the birds had flown.

Africans are endeavoring to persuade Milner, the British high commissioner, to issue a proclamation restraining the Basutos from attacking the Boers.

BIG NEW OIL COMPANY.

HARTFORD, Oct. 28.—It is just learned that a company with $100, 000,000 capital will be formed in opposition to the Standard Oil company that will be a great power in Indiana, Ohio, Texas, California, New York and other oil fields. It will compete with the Standard in every branch of industry and make a determined effort to control the oil industry of the world.

THE CLOSE

Everything Passes Off as Enjoyably as Could Be Wished—Excellent Weather.

THE ALLEGORICAL PARADE

Thousands of People Were on the Streets to Witness the Spectacle—Queen Crowned.

MYSTIC CIRCLE BALL AT PALMER

The Paducah carnival of '99 has closed. It began under propitious circumstances, and no one was disappointed in it. It is lucky that the rain came when it did, but the benign weather clerk was kind, and the outside conditions were most favorable for a creditable entertainment.

The closing scenes of the carnival were about the prettiest of all, which is saying a great deal.
Last night the allegorical parade was witnessed by thousands of people, as the Elks parade the night before, although there were at times a slight fall of rain. The Murphyshoband was in the lead, and after the cake walkers, the float of the king and queen came. The retinue and rough riders, with gaily caparisoned horses and gorgeously decked hersids, pages and attendants, added to the charm of the picture, and Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, as queen, won the admiration of all for the charming manner in which she bore herself.

One of Kentucky's fairest young ladies, whose unsurpassed beauty was enhanced by the magnificent dress she wore, she was greeted with cheers all along the line, and her dignified bearing and courteous acknowledgment of the admiration expressed on every hand, made her all the more popular.

The other allegorical chariots followed at intervals, and the professional cake walkers attracted their part of the attention.

Several of those who participated in the flower parade were in the procession last night, as were a number of the floats. These appeared because of special mention in the prize award yesterday.

The flambeau club, composed of sixteen members of the typographical union, and under the command of Captain E. W. Crumbaugh, made an excellent display, especially when it is taken into consideration that they had drilled but a few times.

A sudden shower towards the close came near breaking up the crowd, but it ceased as suddenly as it began, and the fleeing hordes rallied and when the king, queen and retinue returned to the hotel, there was a jam of people to witness the coronation, which took place half an hour after the procession had ended.

The ceremony was exceedingly impressive, taking place on the Fifth street balcony of the Palmer house, a fine light being thrown on it from the top of the custom house. Surrounding the queen were her pages and the maids and matrons of honor, the whole making a grand life picture.

The band then played and the people retired to the ball room, where they danced until after midnight.
The ball was one of the most enjoyable ever given in Paducah, and there were never so many visitors at a ball at the same time before.

The king, whose identity had been carefully guarded through all the preparations and festivities, elicited many compliments for his gallant and highly ingenious impersonation.
When he unmasked at the ball last night, he proved to be none other than Mr. Thomas C. Leech, of the city. It seems that he was not suspected half as much as several others.

This morning and afternoon most of the visitors who did not go last night, left for their respective homes, well pleased with the carnival, and with the hospitality of Paducah. By tomorrow most of the hundreds of people who came to the carnival will have gone home, although a few are to remain as guests of friends and relatives for a few days longer.

CARNIVAL NOTES.

Little Robert Fisher and Leo Keller were pages to the king of the carnival and enjoyed their distinction very much.

Miss Flossie Owen is especially fortunate in winning prizes, yesterday's capture being the third one she has secured. Mr. Talbot Laurie was the poudest man in Paducah and his legion of friends took pleasure in annoying him.

The grand marshals are certainly to be congratulated on the way they handled the procession. They worked hard. Especial credit is due Captain J. W. Fisher who planned the parade and carried it out to the letter.

Willie Rudy distinguished himself as champion for the queen. The way he handled the ribbons would have done credit to Gus Thompson or Wynne Tully. He looked very pretty, resembling a girl more than the little man he is.

The queen was all right, the king was all right, the parades were all right, the weather was possible and he people were well pleased. Great credit is due the Mystic Circle, the Elks, the Commercial club, the merchants and every one who worked so hard and so faithfully. It was gotten up in three weeks' time and the greatest success of any entertainment.

One of the best pleased honored guests was Mr. B. Nahm, of Bowling Green. He thinks next to his home city Paducah is the greatest place on earth. It will only require a few more visits and M. C. balls to place his home town in second place. Mr.
Nahm is largely interested in real estate in Paducah and unhesitatingly says it has bright prospects of becoming a large city, more so than any place in his knowledge. Paducah would certainly be pleased to have Mr. Nahm as one of her citizens, as a more progressive, hustling young business man is hard to locate. Until then we can only say come oftener and stay longer.

Most of the best attractions in the business part of town will be gone by tomorrow morning. They have nearly all done a good business.

The street cars did a fairly good business yesterday and the day before.
A groceryman reports that numerous applications were received by him and refused for red pepper, which people wanted to throw on persons using rubber balls. Many bought flour, meal and corn, however, more flour being sold than any thing else.

Operator John Berry, of the Postal Telegraph company, has a lovely black eye, the result of one of the rubber balls used so prominently yesterday.

Several persons came near getting their eyes put out.

It is a good thing that today's weather didn't come yesterday or the day before.

WILL BE PERMANENT

Carnival Association Meets Monday to Organize Right.

It Will Become a Permanent Institution, Composed of Business Men.

Paducah is to have a carnival association, and Monday night a meeting will be held at the Palmer house to regularly organize it. It will be composed of the gentlemen who have composed the carnival committee and done so much good work, and all other good business men and citizens who desire to join it.

The details of the organization are not yet complete, but Monday night everything will be determined, and arrangements made for incorporation.

A shed will also be ordered bought for the floats purchased in St. Louis, and which now belong to the city, or rather carnival committee.

It is understood that when all the expenses of the carnival are paid, the money for privileges and such things will bring them out ahead a little.

LADIES FREE.

The Holden Company at Morton's Monday Night.

Monday evening at the opera house the Holden Company company open a week's engagement with the unique comedy-drama, "Nobody's Gaim." This company is said to be as perfect an organization as skill, experience and money can make it. Mr. Holden has left nothing undone to excel his previous efforts during the past twelve seasons. Artists of recognized ability, beautiful scenery, costumes and electrical effects, and a host of vaudeville artists are all carried by this company.

WILL NOT LEAVE US.

The Sun a few days since said Mr.
O. L. Gregory and family were to move to Rochester, N. Y., where Mr.
Gregory had found new interests.
The friends of the gentleman and family will be pleased to learn that this is not to be the case, for Mr.
Gregory has decided to remain in the city. He has secured the entire interest in the Wallace Gregory vinegar works, and hence his new decision.

ED NANCE HELD.

Ed Nance, colored, was charged several days ago with robbing Burnett Beauregard, colored, of a watch and 47 cents. The evidence was found and the case left open until this morning.

This morning he was held to answer and went to jail in default of bail.

TOOK MORPHINE.

May Smith attempted to kill herself last night by taking morphine. She took five grains, and came near dying before Dr. Robertson could get her pumped out. Despondency is supposed to have prompted the act.

GREAT MACHINIST DEAD.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28.—Ottmar Mergenthaler, the inventor of the linotype machine, died here this morning of pulmonary trouble.

WAS GRAND

The Mystic Circle's Superb Ball at the Palmer House Last Night.

A FITTING CARNIVAL FINALE

Beauty and Chivalry Graced the Event and Paid Homage to the Royal

IT WAS WHO RECEIVED THE

Beauty and chivalry such as Kentucky can so well supply graced the Mystic Circle's ball at the Palmer house last night. The function was a fitting climax to the grand carnival and a flattering credit to the circle known only to itself. Adjectives are inadequate to the task of describing and praising the ball and art would hide its head at any attempt to picture the sight. There was loveliness and loveliness—beauty and grace in extreme—with gallant beaux to admire and pay homage.
Charming lady guests from sister states rivaled Kentucky's fairest and beaux from other places made themselves competent aids to the club and their guests. There was perhaps never a grander life scene presented. A marked feature was these were "dresses" and "dresses" the elegant costuming of the ladies, not excelled by the profusion of flowers visible every where. All was beautiful, all was grand.

Miss Lizzie Sinnott, the fair queen, and Mr. T. C. Leech, the noble king, attended in elegant costumes royal in design, with page attendants, surrounded by maids of honor and supported by matrons of honor, welcomed the guests and accepted their homage most gracefully.

The queen, always lovely, was gaily admired and the courtly bearing of the king won many compliments.

The throne was surrounded throughout the evening and when the royal twain retired they passed the length of the capacious dance hall through lines of subjects amid a buzz of long live our sovereigns.

Capable hands had prepared the dance hall and the decorations lent much to the beautiful scene.

Buchanan's orchestra, of Cairo, furnished the music of the evening and it was most excellent.

Other than the royal twain there were present, the

CAIRO CROWD.

They Are Ticked to Death Over Kentucky Hospitality.

Mayor N. B. Thistlewood, of Cairo, Ill., and the seventeen officials who accompanied him, as guests of the Paducah Council and mayor, have returned home, and expressed themselves as well pleased with their treatment here.

In fact they declared there was nothing like Kentucky hospitality. They were taken everywhere by Mayor Lang and the city officials, and everything worth seeing was shown them.
They were not allowed to want, and were shown every courtesy that could be devised. The last of them left last night for home.

Among the gentlemen were: N. B.
Thistlewood, mayor, W. P. Gregory, alderman, and Commissioners W. P.
Jones, J. Wm. McCall, Dr. W. W. Stevensen, W. H. Wood, George J. Krebs, W. H. Moursy, city clerk, J. G. Price, Henry Elias, Jacob Moore, J. H. Woodward, Reed Green, Sam Orr, H. B.
Davidson, Eli Cassidy, and W. T.
Gozzala.

POLICE COURT.

There Was a Small Docket This Morning.

Judge Sanders held police court this morning for the first time in three days, owing to the carnival. Strange as it may seem, there were very few, if any, arrests made as a result of the carnival.

Floa Pattison, for disorderly conduct, was fined $10. She was arrested before the carnival, as were Gillie Travis and Augusta Ligon, colored, who were tried for a fight, and the former was fined $10 and costs and the Travis woman acquitted.

The case against Dolly McBride and Luke Haynes, for robbing Tom Haynes of $36 and a switch key and other things, was left open until Monday morning.

A breach of the peace case against Ed Paris and Walter Sullivan, was

The robbery case against Ed Lindsey, charged with robbing a man named Woodruff, of Union county, was called again and continued until Monday. The authorities have been unable to get the witnesses. If they are not found then, it is probable that the prisoner will be turned over to the sheriff, who has a bench warrant against him from Marshall county, where he is wanted for conspiracy.

OFFICIAL AWARDS.

A Confusion in Numbers as to the Mercantile Display.

The common error was made in all the newspapers that Mr. T. B. Lyle was awarded the loving cup for having the best mercantile display in the parade yesterday.

This was the result of a confusion of numbers by the judges, Messrs. Pete Eley, of Benton, Dr. Hollings, of Hin-kleville, and Dr. Holland, of Ogden's.
Mr. Lyle's friends will regret that he did not secure the prize, but he may have the satisfaction of knowing that he had one of the prettiest and most artistic floats ever seen here.

Not Up to Date.

Some people find it hard to keep their stock of information about men and things up to the present moment, and are consequently betrayed into asking questions about dead-and-gone people as if they were living. A starling instance of this was the following inquiry, lately received by a firm of well-known music publishers in London, from the organist of a church in New London, Conn.: "Would you kindly inform me how a letter would reach Mr. Ben Jonson, author of the song 'Drink to me only with thine eyes'?" This, perhaps, is an even more absurd question than that of a wealthy but ignorant and pretentious woman. She asked Mr. Gilbert several questions about musical composers, to show that she knew all about them. "And what about Bach?" she asked. "Is he composing nowadays?"
"No, ma'am," answered Gilbert, "he is decomposing."

DIED FROM CONSUMPTION.

Sallie Acres, a woman about 40 years of age, died yesterday at the city hospital from consumption, after a lengthy illness.

She had been living with her three children on the river bank in a tent, and exposure caused her to contract the disease which finally killed her.
She was taken to the city hospital day before yesterday, and was so far gone that nothing could be learned of her past history.

The remains will be buried in Potter's field.

BIG RUSH DEPOT.

The biggest rush known for many days at the Union depot was witnessed this afternoon. The people who had been coming in twos and fours and otherwise to attend the carnival were there by the score to return home, and as a result, all the railroad men were kept busy.

There was such a rush when the south-bound train backed in that any people narrowly missed being crushed. Quite a number of people returned to town rather than be crowded on the train.

STREET WORK.

Street Inspector Litterback had several men at work today, despite the weather. He reports that the busi-condition, owing to the paper and other trash that has been scattered on the sidewalks, streets and gutters.

It will require a day or two to thoroughly clean up, but it will be done

MUCH INDIGNATION.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Oct. 28.—Ignoring an injunction issued by County Judge Cansler, the Democratic members of the city council recently passed a gerrymander ordinance restricting the city in order. It was charged, to perpetuate certain communists in office. Circuit Judge Cook dissolved the injunction and dismissed the action for contempt against the council. Many of the most prominent citizens were plaintiffs in the suit, and there is much indignation over Judge Cook's ruling.

HIS NATAL DAY.

Mr. George Augustus, the well-known contractor, is today celebrating his fifty-second birthday and apparently is good for as many years more. Mr. Augustus has been a Paducah since the summer of 1858, coming here from Mt. Holly, N. J., his native place with his parents. He has resided constantly in the Sixth ward of the city since his residence and consequently never voted elsewhere. He can tell many interesting early history notes of the city, and therefore is ever entertaining.

ELOAT BURNED.

J. W. Gleanes & Son's handsome float burned yesterday afternoon late, while it was being prepared for the night parade. It was one of the prettiest in the procession, and had so much inflammable drapery about it that the blaze could not be extinguished. The loss will be about $50 or more.

Don't take internal medicines before the little ones come. They endanger the health of both mother and babe.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, the good and long-tried external liniment, will relieve the early distress and the later pains better than anything else in the world. Observations ....at Random.

One of the unusual spectacles witnessed here yesterday was that early in the morning of an old man leaning helplessly against a fence to dispose of his supper or breakfast. It is not known which—probably both. His aged wife stood by and shamefacedly directed her attention to something else while her legs lurched this way and that to a very excessive extent, and his load was too great, especially for the patient wife, who had to half carry him, anyhow.

It is remarkable that there was no more disorder than there was yesterday and the day before. The crowd was the largest ever seen in Paducah, it is admitted by all, yet there were no arrests of consequence. The police did excellent service. The people everywhere seemed bent simply on having a good time without going too far. Marshal Collins thinks the behavior of the people is not only commendable, but remarkable as well. He feels that they are entitled to great credit, for hundreds of visitors remarked on the excellent order maintained everywhere.

Newspapers in lunatic asylums are quite novelties, but there are a great many of them, which fairly teem with wit and humor, not particularly because articles smacking of insanity are tabooed, but because some of the inmates are very bright except in a few things.

In one journal of this kind an unfortunate tells the following reason why he is there: "I met a young widow with a young stepdaughter, and the widow married me. Then my father, who was a wild ower, met my stepdaughter and married her. That made my wife the mother-in-law of her father-in-law, and made my stepdaughter my mother and my father my stepson."

Then my stepmother, the stepdaughter of my wife, had a son. That boy, of course, was my brother, because he was my father's son. He was also the son of my wife's stepdaughter, and therefore her grandson. That made me grandfather to my step-brother. Then my wife had a son. My mother-in-law, the stepdaughter of my son, is also his grandmother, because he is her stepson's child. My father is the brother-in-law of my child, because his stepfather is his wife. I am the brother of my own son, who is also the child of my step-grandmother. I am my mother's brother-in-law, my wife is her own child's aunt, my son is my father's nephew, and I am my own grandfather. And after trying to explain the relationship in our own family some seven times a day to our calling friends for a fortnight, I was brought here—no, came of my own will."

Another writer declares gleefully that he never found rest from his mother-in-law before, and that he intends to continue as long as possible to hound the physicians in their nation that he is insane. An other writes that the fate of all great men has been to be maltreated or overlooked by their contemporaries, and therefore he is now detained "for the thick skulls and dense fumes of sense are jealous of my being the first to discover that we could all live forever if we would only walk on our hands instead of our feet."

A well-known young drummer of Paducah possesses the uncommon misfortune of breaking nearly every rocking chair in which he sits. As most drummers have no homes, and he is a drummer, the chair he demolishes are usually at some one else's home. He has broken nearly a dozen at various young ladies' homes, but the latest story he tells of an experience he had in Missouri recently.

He met a young lady and was smitten. He went about 100 miles to see her, and she invited him into the parlor, and the first thing she did was to offer him a rocking chair. He suspected the fate that awaited him, but the chair looked good and strong, and he reluctantly accepted it.

It was only a short time until the chair came to pieces, and he was thrown in a heap at the feet of his fair hostess. When he arose he was covered with confusion and dust, and the young lady was naturally embarrassed. His wife came to his rescue, however, and he remarked: "Well, Miss May, I expected to fall at your feet, but I didn't expect to do it the first time I came to see you."

A new chair has replaced the old, but now he always declines a rocker.

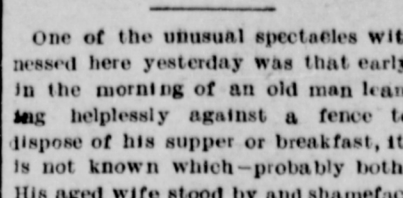

The people of Paducah could learn a great deal about how to manage themselves in a crowd, and many of the visitors would evidently not find such instruction amiss. People should always keep to the right, and there would be no trouble. This was exemplified no where better than at the world's fair, where, as will be remembered, the crowds were almost perfectly managed. Everybody was taught the first thing to go to the right, and to the right they went.

In Paducah, during the dense crowds of the past few days, the people have gone the best way they could. They pushed and crammed and jostled, and in a short time everybody was in a bad humor. Hereafter they should remember the brief instructions of men who have managed crowds for years—to always keep to the right.

The rubber ball had become a nuisance before it ended in Paducah. If the carnival had lasted another day, it would have become unbearable for a majority of the people who had to pass along the streets. Yesterday afternoon a gang of young people stood near the Palmer house and used the rubber balls to such an extent that people became afraid to pass that way.

A bartender who had been annoyed the night before with them while on duty, however, got even in a laughable way. While in his saloon he was so

In Society.

The past week has been a gay one for the society folks. The carnival, with its numerous delightful gayeties, is a thing of the past. It was "one round of pleasure" from the first to the last, and songs of praise are on the lips of every one of the efficient management of the festivities in all its features. The crowning event—literally and figuratively—for society folks was the handsome ball given by the Mystic Circle at the Palmer last evening. It was the first dance of the season and will long be remembered as one of the largest and handsomest functions in the history of local society.

There are several entertainments on the calendar for next week—the evening and several small affairs complimentary to some of the fair visitors in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund P. Noble and daughter, Miss Marie, have issued invitations to a reception dance to be given at the handsome Noble home, in West End, Wednesday, November 1.

The Married Ladies' Euchre club were very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. O. L. Gregory Wednesday evening. The lady's prize, a pretty toilet bottle, was awarded to Miss Inez Whitefield, of Clarksville. Mr. Chas. Spillman captured the gentleman's prize, a handsome tobacco box.

Miss Inez Whitefield, of Clarksville, is visiting Mrs. R. B. Phillips.

Mr. S. N. Leonard and daughter, Miss Sallie, attended the carnival festivities this week returning home today.

Misses Nora Anderson, of Owensboro, and Mary Rattliffe, of Painesville, makers of honor to the queen, are visiting Miss Elizabeth Sinnott.

Miss Mary Wynne-Murphy, of Fulton, one of the maids of honor at the carnival ball, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Overby this week.

Miss Mayne Elliott, Mayfield's maid of honor to the carnival, is the pleasant guest of Miss Aline Bagby.

Misses Edna Spear, of Chicago, and Nan McCallum, of Paris, are the guests of Misses Sewell, on West Broadway.

Miss Gertrude Asher, of Memphis, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thompson.

Misses Frank and Beulah Dumas, of Paris, Tenn., came up for the carnival and are the guests of Miss Ora Leigh.

Miss Effie McCoy, of Golconda, one of the maids of honor to our queen, returned to her home this morning.

Miss Mary Walker, of Dyersburg, is visiting her brother Dr. Richard Walker.

Miss Louise Bracken, of Dyersburg, is visiting Miss Marie Noble.

Miss Georgia Scott, of Dyersburg, is the guest of Miss Alice Crumbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Cooley and daughter, Miss Minerva, of Pryorburg, attended the carnival festivities and ball. Miss Cooley was one of the maids of honor to the queen.

Misses Maye and Fannie Higgins, of St. Louis, are the guests of Miss May Paxton.

The owners of the Brook Hill placed their yacht at the disposal of their friends the past week and there were several delightful excursions parties Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Richard Morgan, of Memphis, is the guest of Mrs. T. C. Leach at the Palmer.

Mr. W. M. Clements, of Louisville, was mixing with his numerous friends to ring the carnival gayeties.

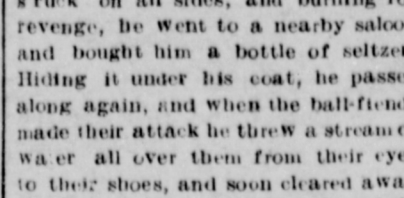

Mr. Will Farley returned yesterday from Cuba, where he has been stationed since his company was mustered out.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one devoted disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Hello, Bill! The carnival is over now get a move on you and go to work, for you've had a high old time and now you are dead broke, and the game is "all over with you, now."

The "Flanhouche Club," composed of the printers of Tippecanoe County, No. 134, was one of the best attractions of the parade, considering the fact that the boys had only been drilled two or three times. They did much better than was expected. But then printers as a rule are pretty "pent citizens" on most any part of the ground.

There was no packet leaving here for Cairo or Evansville this morning, as the Richardson laid over last night until the last act of the carnival. She departed about 1 p. m. for Cairo with a large crowd of Cairo people. She will arrive from Cairo tonight on her regular time.

Over 4,000 people were brought to this city by boats, who attended the carnival.

HARRIS RELEASED.

SHELL GAMES.

Farmers Worked Across the River Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon three of the shapers who had been to the city and failed to get in a graft, crossed over on the ferry boat and put up a small stand near the river bank.

They started a "shell game" in full force, and soon had several suckers. Three or four farmers, if not more, were lured out of their money, one of $20 and another of $5. They came back to town on the late boat.

STOLEN WATCH RECOVERED

S. P. Ragsdale complained last night to Marshal Collins that his watch had been nipped during the rush down town. The officer found it in a down town store, where it had been sold for $1.10. It was returned to the owner.

The ticket was snatched from his pocket by a negro who ran, and whom the police are now after.

MEASURING LIGHTNING.

How Humboldt Struck on the Fulgurite Idea.

It is not generally known that many flashes of lightning not only measure themselves but actually manufacture the recorder by which they are defined. When a bolt of lightning strikes a bed of sand it plunges downward into the sand for a distance less or greater, transforming simultaneously into glass the silica in the material through which it passes. Thus, by its great heat, it forms a glass tube of precisely its own size. Now and then such a tube known as "fulgurite" is found and dug up. Fulgurites have been followed into the sand by excavation for nearly 20 feet.

Kansas City has established an institute particularly for substitute teachers, in order that they may be kept up to the modern methods of teaching, pending their securing permanent positions.

Oregon and Washington horses, which used to bring $1.50 to $2 a head for horse meat, are now bringing $15 each. There is a great demand for heavy work horses and also for horses for the cavalry service, which has brought the price up.

A nobleman of England made a wager of $75,000 that in two years ago a man could live twelve hours without water. A man who was reckless of life offered to go down, and was sunk in an old ship. Neither the man nor the ship was recovered.

Said Gen. O. O. Howard at the Bowdoin conference dinner the other day: "You may ask me what made me a military man. I don't know, but I think it may be because my uncle wanted me to go to West Point in place of his son, who had too narrow a chest."

Exhaustion of British Coal.

Mr. J. A. Loudon, president of the British Institute of Mining Engineers, has estimated that in twenty-five years from the present time many of the best English coal mines will be exhausted. At the present time the outlook of the mines is two hundred million tons, but figures on an increased demand of 2 1/2 per cent per annum, two hundred and eighty million tons will be required by the year 1925. He suggests that duty be put on coal exported in order to save the supply. It is evident that in another quarter of a century Great Britain will commence to import coal, and the product of the colonies and other countries will be used more than at present in order to meet the demands of the big navy.

Mr. Wrenor—What a nuisance it is to hire a house and be unable to have anything on increased demand for it! Mr. Wrenor—Yes, but it is a bigger nuisance to be the landlord and to have your tenant eternally begging for something.—Boston Transcript.

English Naval Nicknames.

The English bluejackets call the admiral in command of a fleet "the Rat," according to the Cornhill. The captain is called "the skipper," or "the Old Man;" first lieutenant, "Number One;" gunnery lieutenant, "Gunnery Jack;" navigating lieutenant, "Sawbones;" "Pipes;" "Docks;" carpenter, "Chips;" "Gatemaker;" "Wood Spoiler;" master at arms, "Jaundy;" (gendarme); ship's corporals, "Crushers;" marines, "Jollies." The general terms for the bluejackets himself is "Platfoot," or, if an elderly man, "Silly-back;" "Jack Tar" is a creation of the landsman, and as such is never used in the service, although, perhaps, "Jack" is admissible as in contradistinction to Tommy Atkins.

Exhaustion of British Coal.

Mr. J. A. Loudon, president of the British Institute of Mining Engineers, has estimated that in twenty-five years from the present time many of the best English coal mines will be exhausted. At the present time the outlook of the mines is two hundred million tons, but figures on an increased demand of 2 1/2 per cent per annum, two hundred and eighty million tons will be required by the year 1925. He suggests that duty be put on coal exported in order to save the supply. It is evident that in another quarter of a century Great Britain will commence to import coal, and the product of the colonies and other countries will be used more than at present in order to meet the demands of the big navy.

Mr. Wrenor—What a nuisance it is to hire a house and be unable to have anything on increased demand for it! Mr. Wrenor—Yes, but it is a bigger nuisance to be the landlord and to have your tenant eternally begging for something.—Boston Transcript.

English Naval Nicknames.

The English bluejackets call the admiral in command of a fleet "the Rat," according to the Cornhill. The captain is called "the skipper," or "the Old Man;" first lieutenant, "Number One;" gunnery lieutenant, "Gunnery Jack;" navigating lieutenant, "Sawbones;" "Pipes;" "Docks;" carpenter, "Chips;" "Gatemaker;" "Wood Spoiler;" master at arms, "Jaundy;" (gendarme); ship's corporals, "Crushers;" marines, "Jollies." The general terms for the bluejackets himself is "Platfoot," or, if an elderly man, "Silly-back;" "Jack Tar" is a creation of the landsman, and as such is never used in the service, although, perhaps, "Jack" is admissible as in contradistinction to Tommy Atkins.
